

Data Processing Agreement

Insofar as Fourth Enterprises, LLC and its affiliates (“Data Processor”) will be processing personal data on behalf of its subscribers and customers (“Data Controller”) in the course of providing its products and services (“Services”), the terms of this Data Processing Agreement (“Agreement”) shall apply. References to “Data Protection Laws” shall mean any law applicable to Data Processor’s processing or use of personal data, including (to the extent applicable), Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, including enacting or amending legislation (“GDPR”), and The California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018, AB375, Title 1.81.5, including any implementing law, as amended (“CCPA”).

This Services Policy does not cover any personal information or data collected by Data Processor for other purposes, such as information collected directly from individuals who use Data Processor’s websites or mobile applications for their own purposes. The policy followed by Data Processor in connection with such direct user information is available at <https://www.fourth.com/privacy-policy/>.

1. Collection. Data Processor collects personal information through the input fields filled in by your employees and other users of the Services. Data Processor may also use cookies, log files, web beacons, device identifiers, advertising identifiers, and similar tracking technologies, including those from third-party service providers like Google Analytics and other cloud-based tools, to automatically collect preferences, performance data, and information about access and use of the Services. Data Processor provides more information about how it utilizes cookies at <https://www.fourth.com/en-gb/legal/cookie-policy-solutions-and-applications/>. 2. Processing.

- a) Data Processor will only process, store, and use the personal data it receives from the Data Controller as necessary to provide the Services, perform to Data Controller’s prior written instructions, or as otherwise agreed by the parties. The Data Processor shall never retain, use, disclose, sell, or process the personal data other than as specified in this Agreement, the Data Controller’s documented instructions, or as otherwise permitted by law. The Data Controller agrees that Data Processor may store and delete personal data in accordance with its Data Retention Policy, available at <https://www.fourth.com/en-gb/wp-content/uploads/sites/2/2019/10/Data-Retention-Policy-March-2018-FINAL.pdf>, as amended by Data Processor from time to time.
- b) The Data Controller represents and warrants that it has all necessary rights to provide the personal data to the Data Processor for the processing to be performed in connection with the Services. To the extent required by Data Protection Laws, the Data Controller is responsible for providing all necessary privacy notices to data subjects and, unless another legal basis set forth in the Data Protection Laws supports the lawfulness of the processing, for obtaining any necessary consents from data subject to the processing required under the Agreement. Should such a consent be revoked by a data subject, the Data Controller will inform the Data Processor of such revocation, and the Data Processor is responsible for implementing Data Controller's instruction with respect to the processing of such personal data. Data Controller will keep the personal data accurate and fully up to date at all times during the continuance of the Services.

3. Confidentiality.

The Data Processor shall treat all personal data confidentially and will take steps to protect personal data that are substantially similar to those it takes to protect its own personal data (but not less than reasonable care) to prevent its unauthorized disclosure. Except as otherwise expressly set forth in this Agreement, the Data Processor shall not disclose or process the personal data without the prior written consent of Data Controller, except for the purpose of exercising its rights or performing its obligations under this Agreement. The Data Processor shall inform all its employees, agents and approved sub-processors engaged in processing the personal data of the confidential nature of the personal data. The Data Processor shall cause all such persons or parties to sign confidentiality agreements with obligations no less restrictive in the use and protection of the personal data than those Data Processor has to Data Controller.

4. Security Measures.

- a) Considering the state of the art, the costs of implementation and the nature, scope, context, and purposes of processing, as well as the risk of varying likelihood and severity for the rights and freedoms of natural persons, the Data Processor shall implement appropriate technical and organizational security measures commensurate with the risk involved in the processing. The Data Processor shall maintain and follow written security policies that are fully implemented and applicable to the processing of personal data. At a minimum, such policies will include assigning internal responsibility for information security management, devoting adequate personnel resources to information security, carrying out verification checks on permanent staff who will have access to the personal data, conducting appropriate background checks, requiring employees, vendors, and others with access to personal data to enter into written confidentiality agreements, and conducting training to make employees and others with access to the personal data aware of information security risks presented by the processing.
- b) At the request of the Data Controller, the Data Processor shall demonstrate to the Data Controller the measures it has taken pursuant to this Article 4 and shall allow the Data Controller to audit and test such measures, to the extent it does not require providing access to the data of others. Subject to such restriction, the Data Processor shall cooperate with such audits carried out by the Data Controller, shall grant the Data Controller's approved auditors reasonable access to the Data Controller's personal data, and shall provide such auditors with access to any information relating to the processing of such personal data as may be reasonably required by the Data Controller to ascertain the Data Processor's compliance with this Agreement.
- c) Where Data Processor offers a secure method of processing or transmitting personal data and the Data Controller chooses a less secure (or non-secure) method of processing or transmitting personal data, then the Data Processor shall not be liable for any breach of this Agreement or applicable Data Protection Law or liability that occurs or arises from such less secure method of processing.

5. Data Transfers.

Solely to the extent Data Controller transfers any personal data from (a) the European Economic Area, or (b) a jurisdiction where a European Commission positive adequacy decision under Article 25(6) of Directive 95/46/EC is in force and covers such transfer, then the parties agree that such personal data is subject to the model contractual clauses annexed to Commission Decision 2004/915/EC (the “Clauses”), which are hereby incorporated into this Agreement. In such cases, Data Controller is the ‘data exporter’ and Data Processor is the ‘data importer’ as defined in the Clauses.

6. Security Breach.

The Data Processor will notify the Data Controller without undue delay upon discovery of any suspected or actual security or confidentiality breach or other compromise of personal data that , describing the breach in reasonable detail, the status of any investigation or mitigation taken by the Data Processor, and if applicable, the potential number of data subjects affected. Data Processor will not communicate with any third party regarding any security breach except as specified by Data Controller or by applicable law.

7. Subprocessors.

The Data Processor may subcontract any of its Services-related activities or allow any personal data to be processed by a third party, provided that such subprocessors are bound by data protection obligations compatible with those of the Data Processor under this Agreement. Data Processor shall be responsible for the acts and omissions of its subprocessors in their capacity as such. A current list of subprocessors of the Services is listed at <https://www.fourth.com/legal/subprocessors/>, which may be updated from time to time. If Data Controller objects to the addition of any new subprocessor, it may terminate the applicable Services. In the provision of the Services, if personal data will be transferred from within the EEA to a subprocessor outside of the EEA, it shall be transferred in accordance with the requirements of the Clauses, unless the subprocessor participates in the US Department of Commerce Privacy Shield Framework.

8. Data Subject Rights.

The Data Processor shall assist the Data Controller by appropriate technical and organizational measures, insofar as it is possible, for the fulfilment of the Data Controller’s obligation to respond to requests for exercising the data subject’s rights under the Data Protection Laws. An individual who seeks access to or a copy of their personal data, or who seeks to correct, amend, or delete inaccurate personal data on the Services, should direct their query to the Data Controller. If the Data Controller requests the Data Processor to remove or provide a copy of the personal data to comply with Data Protection Laws, Data Processor will respond to their request within the time period prescribed by law, or if no time period is prescribed, within 30 days, but only in circumstances where Data Controller is not able to remove or copy the personal data itself.

9. Comments or Questions.

Any comments or questions relating to this policy can be addressed to security@fourth.com.
